

“ I want my sisters to have the best life they can.”

Tori Denison (center) | Spokane Tribe of Indians

Fentanyl is taking Native lives. We are taking action.

We are talking about the unpredictable drug supply.

We are carrying naloxone (also called Narcan).

We are finding culturally grounded treatment and recovery.

FOR OUR LIVES

ForNativeLives.org

Learn Tori's story. She and her sisters Clara and Sophia Denison (above) talk regularly about fentanyl after their mom died of an overdose.